Leader's notes

Thank you so much for using our training videos. Our vision for them is that they equip you, as a leader, with high-quality training content which you can use with your team. We hope that this will save you time in preparation, releasing you to do what only you can do: establish and grow your team, build community, and apply the teaching to your unique context together.

This page is for you to read and use as you lead the training. The next page is a handout which you can print out for your volunteers attending the training.
